

Barry McHugh

Barry McHugh was sworn in as the Kootenai County Prosecuting Attorney in January 2009, and again in 2013 and 2017. Barry supervises over 50 employees between the Criminal Division, the Civil Division, the Juvenile Diversion Division and the Human Resources Division. He currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Idaho Association of Counties, and has served on the Board and as Board President for the Idaho Prosecuting Attorney's Association. In April 2011 Barry was awarded a Civil Rights Award from the Kootenai County Task Force on Human Relations for his efforts to successfully prosecute hate crimes.

Barry is on the Board of Directors for the Safe Passage Violence Protection Center. He is a past President of the Board of Directors of the Child Advocacy Center. He is a member of the Coeur d'Alene Rotary Club, and is a past member of its Board of Directors and is a Past President.

Prior to becoming Kootenai County's Prosecuting Attorney he was in private practice as a partner in a local law firm, and as a prosecutor for the City of Coeur d'Alene, Kootenai County, the State of Idaho, and the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Idaho.

Barry is a native of Kootenai County. He is married to Teresa, a talented artist, and has three children.